MARSHAL TITO
DENIES STORY
OF LOST C-47AIR SOVEREIGNTY
VIOLATED, SAYS
PREMIER

London, Wednesday, Aug. 20 (AP)—Premier Marshal Tito, demanding that Yugoslavia's air sovereignty be respected, today contradicted an American diplomat's account of the downing of a U. S. transport plane in Yugoslavia on Aug. 9.

In a statement broadcast to Yugoslav workers over the Belgrade radio and issued here by the Yugoslav news agency, Tito denied that the American plane, forced down near Ljubljana by gunfire of two Yugoslav fighter craft, had been lost in the clouds.

Tito declared that Yugoslavia desires peace, "but not at any price."

The broadcast said that Tito was an eyewitness to the forcing down of the American plane on Aug. 9, explaining that he was vacationing in Slovenia in the region "where the American plane landed."

Clouds Rare
The broadcast statement, issued in London by the Yugoslav news agency, made clear that Tito's remarks applied only to the plane forced down on Aug. 9 and not to a second plane reportedly shot down by Yugoslav fighter planes on Monday.

Tito "very sternly stressed" Yugoslav rights and declared that on numerous occasions Yugoslavia has protested against such violations of her sovereignty," the statement declared.

The Yugoslav premier, who made his statement in an address to workers of the Jescence foundries, said the Americans had issued a story that the transport plane lost its way in the clouds "which were very rare in Yugoslavia this year."

"The weather was far from being cloudy," Tito asserted, "and, in fact, was perfectly clear."

On Aug. 18 U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson said in Belgrade that the American C-47 plane was lost in a storm and was attacked just as it emerged from a hole in the clouds. It was forced down by fire from Yugoslav fighters and landed near Ljubljana.

Patterson denounced the incident as "a wicked, inexcusable and deliberate attack on a friendly nation's airplane."

Assistant Named
By New Michigan
Attorney General

Lansing, Aug. 20 (AP)—Foss O. Eldred, Deputy Attorney General and newly appointed Attorney General, announced today he had selected John Bradshaw, now an assistant attorney general, as his successor in the deputy's position. Eldred, as attorney general when the latter takes oath of office as Justice of the State Supreme Court, probably soon after Sept. 1.

Bradshaw, 35, is a former Otsego county prosecuting attorney and practiced law in Gaylord before joining the attorney general's staff in 1939.

He attended Albion College and is a graduate of the Detroit College of Law.

YOUTH PLAYS OFFICER

Boston, Aug. 20 (AP)—The army, FBI, state and city police today were seeking a six-foot, four-inch youth who, garbed in an army captain uniform, smartly saluted himself past a sentry into the army base and just as smartly saluted himself out again at the wheel of an army sedan.

Police said the man was about 26 or 27 years old. The army car bore the number 166,146.

Pilots Did Right Thing
In Downing Yank Plane,
Says Belgrade Official

Belgrade, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Yugoslav government refused to comment officially today on the shooting down over Yugoslavia territory of two unarmed American transport planes, but a spokesman within the government declared "our pilots did the right thing."

U. S. Embassy officials, completely balked in their investigation of the incidents, prepared to take their protests directly to Marshal Tito.

A spokesman within the government was questioned about the disappearance yesterday of a Vienna-to-Italy C-47 which an eyewitness said fell after an attack by two Yugoslav fighters, and about the shooting down Aug. 9 of another unarmed American transport.

"Our pilots did the right thing," the spokesman said. "They did nothing which was not in coordination with our own and international rights."

Two RAF planes which went in search for the American ship after it sent out distress signals could find no trace of it. The plane was a regular ship of the European Air Transport service, carrying a crew of three officers and two enlisted men, with no passengers or mail cargo.

(In Rome, European Air Transport headquarters said American planes henceforth would give Yugoslav territory a wide berth in flights from Austria to Italy.)

Leonard Scopes, British vice consul at Ljubljana, went to Yugoslav Fourth Army headquarters immediately upon receiving reports that the plane had been shot down. He said army authorities there "declined to discuss it."

Theodore Hohenhalt, U. S. vice consul at Zagreb, was enroute to Ljubljana.

U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson, who had branded the Aug. 9 action of Yugoslav fighter planes as "wicked, inexcusable and deliberate," prepared to fly Thursday with his aides for a conference with the Yugoslav premier at Marshal Tito's summer home.

Garfield and Bill Craft, each recently discharged from the army, came out of the Sullivan Hollow swamp and surrendered to Constable Alex Sullivan, who took them to the strong Hinds county jail at Jackson.

The two gave up after a search by hundreds of armed deputies and citizen-possesmen, presumably in response to an appeal from their mother, Rachel Craft, who went into the woods today looking for them.

Another of the woman's sons, Johnny Craft, an ex-marine, appeared at the county jail in Jackson early today and gave himself up. He slipped out of the heavy cordon and hitchhiked to Jackson.

The apprehension of Bill and Garfield Craft swelled to 14 the number of negroes from Sleepy Sullivan Hollow now held in Jackson. They are wanted either for alleged connection with the trouble or as material witnesses, officers said.

With all the hunted negroes away from Magee, Mayor O. J. Biglane described the town as "quiet as a Sunday school." Sheriff George Hawkins of Smith county went to Jackson tonight.

Opening Of Detroit
Schools Held Back
As Polio Increases

Detroit, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Detroit Board of Education agreed today to postpone opening of public schools from Sept. 4 to 9 because of the number of infantile paralysis cases in the metropolitan area.

The board said a further postponement will be made if recommended by Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, city health commissioner. He reported 118 polio cases have been listed since July 1, with 10 deaths.

BRITAIN WILL ASK MANDATE
OF PALESTINEDIPLOMATIC BATTLE IS FORESEEN IN HOLY LAND

BY ED CREAGH

London, Aug. 20 (AP)—Britain will ask the United Nations for sole trusteeship over Palestine, a well-qualified government source said today, and there were immediate indications the move would touch off a widespread diplomatic battle for control of the strategic Holy Land.

Arab sources in London said the Arab countries surrounding Palestine would press instead for complete independence of the tiny country—and it was suggested that Egypt would ask for trusteeship if the independence move failed.

Diplomatic quarters said Russia, which long has urged that the British get out of Palestine and let Jews and Arabs settle their own problems, could be expected to oppose British trusteeship. The United States, building an oil pipeline across Palestine, could be expected to favor it, they added.

While the Jewish agency for Palestine made no official comment, a spokesman said Holy Land Jews would not oppose United Nations discussion of the trusteeship and would accept any regime that gave them "a fair share" of control over immigration and certain other matters.

The official who disclosed Britain's plan said it was necessary because the British League of Nations mandate for Palestine expired with the league. Without direct reference to Winston Churchill's recent suggestion that the mandate be surrendered, the official said:

"Britain will certainly not give up the mandate and has not ever considered doing so." Churchill had urged in effect that Britain wash her hands of troubled Palestine unless the United States helped her solve the conflicting claims of Jews for a national homeland and of Arabs for independence and an end to Jewish immigration.

President Truman recently informed the British that the U. S. believes the Palestine problem is one for Britain, as the mandatory power, to solve in consultation with Jews and Arabs.

Layoff Ruling Ends
Walkout Of Press
Wireless Employees

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the New York State Mediation Board, ruled tonight that Press Wireless, Inc., under its contract with the American Communications Association, CIO, was not privileged to lay off 46 employees on Aug. 7 without submitting the issue to arbitration.

Ruling on a key issue in the 13-day-old strike of 300 press wireless employees, Meyer held that under the union's contract, "neither party may take unilateral action, in the absence of agreement as to lay-offs, before submission to arbitration."

Meyer's decision on the primary issue in the labor dispute—whether either side could take unilateral action as to lay-offs or a walkout without first resorting to arbitration—was to end the press wireless strike automatically under terms of an agreement reached last weekend by the company and the union.

Under the weekend agreement, ACA lifted an embargo imposed on international press copy of other wireless and cable firms and confined strike action to press wireless.

Bullet Wound Fatal To Colonel's Wife,
Saginaw Resident

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—A bullet wound which police said was self-inflicted proved fatal today to Mrs. Genevieve Phelps, 45, wife of Col. Robert Phelps, former military governor of Frankfurt.

Mrs. Phelps, whose home is in 2601 Court street, Saginaw, Mich., shot herself in the left temple yesterday in the Phelps suite at the hotel Windsor, police said, using a small revolver her husband had brought home as a souvenir from Germany.

Detectives said she fired the shot in the bedroom of the suite while her husband, her 18-year-old daughter, Mary Lou, and a 12-year-old son, John, were having breakfast in the hotel dining room.

The Colonel was on terminal leave and the family had arrived Sunday from Saginaw where Mrs. Phelps had been suffering from a nervous condition, police said.

Third Stiff Note
Sent Yugoslavia
By United States

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—An outraged state department shot a third stiff note to Yugoslavia today, this time over an attack on an American transport plane forced to a crash landing.

Word came from the Navy, at the same time, that Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, acting commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, and Vice Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, deputy chief of naval operations, are en route to Europe. Details of their mission were not disclosed but reports from London said they would visit "troubled areas."

The Navy later announced that the two admirals are on a "routine inspection tour of Navy occupation forces in Europe." A spokesman said this will include Mediterranean areas.

The official American view that the Yugoslav attack on an American plane is an "outrageous performance" was expressed by Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson, who is in charge at the state department during Secretary Byrnes' absence in Paris.

His voice edged with anger, the usually mild-mannered acting secretary adopted the unusual practice of permitting his indictment to be quoted directly, and went on to say that the incident was not one to be expected from a friendly nation.

He made public at his news conference a "most emphatically" worded official protest against the action and the attitude of the responsible Yugoslav officials, plus a stiffy put "demand" for assurance that there will be no repetition.

The note dealt primarily with an attack on an American Army transport plane Aug. 9 which was fired upon by Yugoslav fighters and forced to crash land in a cornfield after being forced off its course by bad weather. One passenger, apparently not an American, was wounded.

But it included also a reference to reports from Trieste that "a second United States plane en route to Italy from Austria is missing after having last reported itself under machine gun attack," Acheson said that plane has not been located.

Piled atop the disclosure of the note—the third to Yugoslavia made public within the last 24 hours—came these additional reflections of grave displeasure at developments in Soviet spheres:

1. Delivery to Poland of a note saying that persecution of the Polish Labor Party, arrest, conscription restriction, administrative interference "and other repressive acts" have prevented "normal democratic political activity in Poland." This country extended recognition to the Polish provisional government with the stipulation, reached by the Big Three at Yalta, that it guarantee "free and unfettered elections."

2. Acheson's announcement that he had handed Soviet charge d'affaires Fedor Orekhov a note setting forth this country's position in regard to Russia's demand for a share in the military control of the strategic Dardanelles. Although Acheson declined to discuss the contents of the note, diplomatic authorities reported that it constitutes this country's unqualified opposition to the Russian plan.

The door was left open for possible preamble modifications, however, since the delegation of any member nation of the conference may present any of the ideas embodied in the Italian proposals as its own, to be voted upon formally.

In addition to the document discussed by the commission during the day, members of the Italian delegation released memoranda on the treaty clauses themselves.

These new notes sought a softer peace for Italy and discussed at length Italy's frontiers-to-be with Yugoslavia and the proposed free territory of Trieste.

One note urged the establishment of an Italian-Yugoslav frontier east of the "French line" from Gorizia northward, to give Italy the upper Isonzo hydro-electric works and the future Trieste-Austria rail line "so as not to let one and the same state (Yugoslavia) control the means of communication" from both Trieste and Fiume.

Life Term Given
Army Deserter In Michigan Slaying

Grand Haven, Mich., Aug. 20 (AP)—Robert Frederick Smith of Blue Island, Ill., 21-year-old army deserter, was sentenced to life imprisonment today after he pleaded guilty before Circuit Court Judge Fred T. Miles to a first degree murder charge in a holdup-slaying last Dec. 20.

Smith calmly admitted that he shot Roy Gordon Beh of Grosse Pointe, Mich., to death after he hitchhiked a ride with Beh, traveling representatives of an airplane parts concern and a neighbor of Henry Ford II.

Smith originally was committed to a state hospital after a sanity commission ruled him insane. He was brought into court today after a recent examination showed him sane.

TRUMAN TAKES BERMUDA TRIP

Vacation Yacht Heads
South For Cruise
Of Gulf Stream

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

With President Truman in the Atlantic, Aug. 20 (AP)—President Truman scrapped plans today to visit the Maine coast and headed his vacation yacht southward toward Bermuda and a cruise in the Gulf Stream.

The U. S. Williamsburg will dock at Bermuda Thursday afternoon, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross radio-telephoned reporters aboard the Navy vessel Weiss.

He indicated the chief executive might go ashore while the ship pauses there to take on food, water and fuel.

He said the rest of the trip "is still wide open." He did not know how long a stay would be made at Bermuda.

Earlier, Ross said the president's itinerary was changed because of the weather.

Ross then told reporters that the party "is heading in a southerly direction with no fixed destination. The ship, he said, will not anchor tonight."

Parrish Resigns As Liquor Commission
Enforcement Chief

Lansing, Aug. 20 (AP)—Charles A. Parrish today resigned as director of the state liquor control commission licensing and enforcement division to enter private business in Grand Rapids, beginning Sept. 1.

Parrish has been employed by the commission since 1934, and with the enforcement division since 1935.

Chairman Felix H. H. Flynn said a successor to Parrish had not been chosen. The job is under civil service.

Small Plane Falls Into Sunrise Lake;
Two Presumed Dead

Red City, Mich., Aug. 20 (AP)—State police said tonight that two occupants of a small plane were presumed dead after it plunked into Sunrise Lake near Leroy shortly after 3 p. m.

Trooper Adolph Ploehn listed the occupants as Kenneth D. Spencer, 26, of Grosse Ile, the pilot and Jack Matthews, 31, of Detroit, the passenger.

Ploehn said the two took off from Flat Rock airport at 4 p. m. headed for Lost Lake and a visit with Spencer's father. A number of cottagers saw the plane apparently develop engine trouble and plunge into the middle of the lake.

State police said the water in the vicinity was 80 feet deep and this hampered their dragging operations which are to be resumed at daybreak.

NO CONTROLS ON GRAIN AND
DAIRY FOODSLEVELS OF JUNE 30
TO BE REINSTATED
IN MEAT PRICES

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Meat price ceilings and subsidies were ordered restored by the new De-control Board tonight, bringing immediate outcry from the industry that "all the evils of the black market" may return.

Most grains and all dairy products were freed from renewed price control, the latter at least temporarily. Board Chairman Roy L. Thompson promised the public in a nationwide broadcast that if milk and other dairy prices "move upward from here on out, this board can and will put the industry back under control."

Rollbacks Promised
The board slapped price controls back on cottonseed products and soy beans as well as all meat and livestock. The actual ceilings, to be determined by the OPA and the Agricultural Department, will go into effect at 12:01 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time Friday).

Price Administrator Paul Porter said the meat ceilings will be "at or close to June 30 levels." That would knock down recent price increases which Thompson called "more than" unreasonable.

Acknowledging that "it would be impossible to please everybody," Thompson explained that under the terms of the new price control act, no ceilings may be placed on dairy products now because their prices in the free market have not risen "unreasonably."

"Taken across the country, a quart of milk went up about three cents in the so-called 'free market' since June 30," he declared. "Of that three cents, nearly two cents was necessary to take up the slack when subsidies were discontinued with the end of controls."

As for meat, the board held that price ceilings could be enforced. Thompson announced that slaughtering regulations will be tightened "a great deal" and that "a much larger" OPA enforcement staff is in prospect.

New Scarcities Feared
A statement by the American Meat Institute in Chicago expressed hope that the government "now will find some way to prevent black markets and meat scarcity from developing in the future." It added that unless the controls are "effectively enforced" there will be less meat for consumers and revived black markets.

Congressmen from livestock states went even further in predicting new black market activity and meat shortages.

Subsidies on meat and livestock which were in effect June 29 were ordered renewed for the present. "Restoration of subsidies on meat means we can reestablish ceilings at or close to June 30 levels," Porter told a newsmen.

"This will be the case on beef, pork and veal. We have not decided yet about lamb."

Porter declined further comment at present, explaining that "this is the board's night."

Rep. Gossett (D-Tex.), one of the first congressmen to comment, told a reporter that restoration of meat ceilings "will result in most of the meat flowing into the black market. As a result, we will have less meat. It will be poorer quality and we'll pay more for it."

Assailed by C. I. O.
A statement by Leo Goodman, secretary of the CIO cost of living committee, assailed the refusal to restore controls on dairy products and grains. It declared that "the action of the price decontrol will bring greater inflation to the American people."

RACE TO BEAT SOUND'S SPEED

British Announce Plans For Extra-Fast Airplanes

Washington (SS).—The race to beat the speed of sound with air planes is on in earnest. British officials have announced that British engineers have plans for aircraft that will fly faster than sound, and that later a full-size supersonic plane will be built.

These models will be rocket-powered and pilotless. They will be taken aloft and launched from ordinary aircraft, the London Transatlantic Daily Mail states. They will be guided by radio control, and will automatically "tell" the parent plane how they are behaving by means of radio-telemetry.

Radio-telemetry is an electronic system that measures stresses and strains and reports the results constantly to a ground station or perhaps to an accompanying plane. An American type installed in U. S. Navy planes demonstrated recently how well a plane without a pilot can be guided in the air and its performance recorded.

America's entry in the supersonic speed race, is the Army-Bell Aircraft XS-1, built under principles learned by scientists of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics in its laboratories and supersonic and other wind tunnels.

The XS-1 has already been thoroughly tested without power in glider and diving performances and will soon be given try-outs in gradually increasing speeds when its rocket engines are installed. The supersonic test will be made later. Under present plans, it will not be pilotless. The same man who has handled it in the tests already made is expected to guide it in the break-through of the supersonic wall.

Other English developments in aviation parallel those in America, with perhaps more stress placed on gas-turbine and jet-propulsion than is emphasized in this country. The English have a 30,000 pound "flying wing" powered with turbo-jets that may be in the air later this year. It has a tailless airframe powered by four jet engines that will be put into commercial service over the Atlantic by 1950. It is expected.

An English jet-propelled Gloster Meteor climbed recently to an altitude of 46,500 feet, and reached an unofficial speed of 630 miles an hour, it is reported. Its official speed record is 606 miles an hour.

Britain's new jet helicopter gave its first public demonstration recently, it is announced. Laterally directed jets directed sideways against the tail provide directional and torque control. The fan blades give it lift and forward motion as in American helicopters.

An English air official has just given information relative to a new aero-dynamic research station to be erected at Thurleigh at a cost of many millions of dollars, that will have the most modern equipment including supersonic wind tunnels. This is designed to help England keep to the front in aviation.

Production Halted Week at Chrysler Due To Shortages

Detroit, Aug. 20 (P)—Chrysler corporation announced today that because of a shortage of materials and parts, both in its own and its vendors' plants, production of passenger cars and trucks in its various plants will be halted for one week beginning August 26.

The announcement said the period of shutdown will be utilized for the taking of inventory and that operations designed to build up stocks of units for future assembly will be continued.

Planted White-Tail Deer Protected In Indiana Now Pests

Indianapolis, Aug. 20 (P)—Indiana has a deer problem. It started back in 1934 when the State Conservation Department "planted" 35 Virginia white tail deer from Wisconsin into Southern Indiana. During the next eight years a total of 152 deer were released in the southern part of the state.

Latest census in the region indicates 2,000 of the animals are roaming the Southern Indiana hills. Now, several farmers in the section are complaining that the deer are invading cornfields and gardens, but its against the law to shoot them.

Trapping for removal to other areas is unsuccessful, department officials said, because they just return to their former haunts. Henry W. Moesch, Jr., director of the department's conservation club activities, suggested permitting hunters to stalk deer with bow and arrows.

Freon Rated High As Fire Fighter

Washington—The Freon chemical compounds that are used in household refrigerators and in air-cooling systems now have a new job. They are found to be more effective in extinguishing gasoline fires than the long-used carbon dioxide and other inert gases. Freon is well-known to soldiers. It is the carrier for DDT, compressed into the aerosol bomb, which when released made an effective spray to kill mosquitoes and other insect pests. The Freon is harmless to man, being non-toxic, non-combustible, non-explosive and non-irritant.

The use of Freons to extinguish gasoline fires is recommended by the U. S. Bureau of Mines because of their effectiveness determined by a study of six inert gases and their effects on three different types of gasoline. The study was made by Bureau scientists and others from the Mine Safety Appliances Company.

Among the six gases tested, Freon 11 was found to be the most effective flame-quenching agent. Freon 12, Freon 21, carbon dioxide, automobile-exhaust gas, and nitrogen were next best in the order named.

Rusty Collegiate Allstars Looking For Pro Futures

BY JERRY LISKA
Evanston, Ill., Aug. 20 (P)—The 13th annual college All-Star football game may be strictly a spectacle for some 95,000 fans at Soldier Field Friday night, but for the collegiate squad generally it will be a postwar comeback test of bread-and-butter significance.

At least 55 of the 68-member squad Coach Bo McMillin will send against the champion Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League are headed for professional play this fall.

Most of them are rusty from military service and certainly not any younger than when they were campus hot-shots, two three and even as many as seven years ago.

For instance, All-Star Captain Martin Ruby won letters as a rip-snortin' tackle at Texas A. & M. in 1939-40-41. Ruby, who has signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the All-American Conference, was on Tinian Island in the South Pacific on V-J day when his 504th bomber group received a presidential citation.

Twenty-eight other All-Stars, most of them signed for tries in the National or All-American leagues, also were on duty overseas when the Japs called it quits.

Halfbacks Billy Hillenbrand, Lou Saban and Chuck Jacoby, who met as Indiana freshmen in 1939 and played together three years, were in India when the war ended. Now Hillenbrand and Jacoby are signed by the Chicago Rockets and Saban will play with the Cleveland Browns.

George Heekers, 235-pound Wisconsin tackle (Los Angeles Rams), was testing Army bombers in Casablanca on V-J day. Guard Visco Grigich of Santa Clara (San Francisco 49ers) was in the Caribbean. Bronze Star-winner Monk Gafford, Auburn back (Miami Seahawks) was organizing a football team in Augsburg, Germany. Bill Garnaas, Minnesota back (Chicago Cardinals), was on a repair tug at Okinawa.

Cleaning up Jap resistance on Okinawa were End Ralph Heywood of Southern California (Rockets), Center Bill Blackburn of Auburn (Cardinals) and Halfbacks Don Griffin of Illinois (Rockets) and Bloddy Black of Mississippi State (New York Yankees).

Center Herb Coleman of Notre Dame (Rockets) was skipping a LCT craft in Pacific waters, while Center Merv Pregulman of Michigan (Green Bay Packers) was serving as gunnery officer on a tanker off Iwo Jima, and End Jack Russell of Baylor (Yankees) was stationed on Tinian.

Cardinals Chew Up Braves, 4-1, Climb Up Near Top Again

St. Louis, Aug. 20 (P)—The St. Louis Cardinals, gaining momentum for their crucial series with Brooklyn next week, slashed the Dodgers' edge to a mere half-game tonight by defeating the Boston Braves, 4-1, while the league leaders were losing at Pittsburgh. The old standbys, Harry Walker, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter, supplied the punch for the Cardinals' fourth straight victory, with successive blows against aging Johnny Niggeling for two runs in the fourth frame while Lefty Howie Pollet held the Braves to three hits to record his fifteenth triumph of the year.

Ray Sanders, former Cardinal, robbed his old teammate of a shutout by parking his sixth homer of the season on the pavilion roof in the third frame but the Boston advantage was short-lived. Walker, first up in the fourth, tripled. Musial doubled and Slaughter singled to put the Cards in front and Pollet held the Braves hitless the rest of the way.

A double by Red Schoendienst and Musial's single gave the Cardinals another tally in the fifth and two walks, a sacrifice and Pollet's one-bagger produced the final Red Bird run in the sixth. Boston . . . 001 000 000—1 3 0 St. Louis . . . 000 211 00x—4 10 0 Niggeling, F. Barrett (8) and Masi; Pollet and Garagiola.

Cotton Is Grown Colored In Russia

Moscow (SS)—Soviet cotton fields are now producing experimentally naturally tinted fibers of brown, red, and green.

These cottons colored by nature fade less than white fibers that are artificially dyed and they have greater resistance against decay. It is claimed in a report prepared for Science Service by N. Konstantinov of the Soviet Scientists' Antifascist Committee.

In a number of cases the chemical nature of naturally colored cotton was established. The brown color of the fibers is caused by presence in them of a special organic substance of tannin type, so-called catechol. On coming into contact with oxygen in air the tanning matter is oxidized and forms brown and red amorphous substances which give color to fiber.

Colored fibers have particularly high wax content. According to data of the Moscow Textile Institute, in green-fibered cotton plants this equals seven to 10% and in white-fibered species 0.7%. The presence of tanning matter and fatty wax substances in fibers gives greater resistance against decay.

It is well known, the report says, that in artificially dyed white fibers the quality deteriorates. Hence the manufacture of fabrics from naturally colored

County Valuations Are Approved With Only One Revision

Lansing, Aug. 20 (P)—The state tax commission's recommendations for equalized valuation of counties passed the state board of equalization today with a single change, a $5,940,000 reduction in the valuation for Oakland county.

With the Oakland county reduction, that total equalized valuation for Michigan counties was $7,687,650,000, an increase of $170,800,000 over 1945.

Louis M. Nims, board chairman, said the board has accepted the Oakland county appeal because in reporting its assessed valuation, the county had reported new construction worth approximately $7,000,000 but had neglected to report a corresponding personal property loss over last year.

Far-Flung Weather Stations Planned

Washington—Far-flung weather stations outside the continental United States are being maintained by the U. S. Weather Bureau to aid transcontinental and transoceanic flying. It is now revealed, and hourly reports of weather conditions are being received from stations of other nations.

Additional observatories will be established both on American possessions and on foreign soil in co-operation with the countries concerned as found needed. These latter will be operated by the U. S. Weather Bureau only until local personnel has been trained.

Weather Bureau activities also have increased over prewar days within the United States. The Bureau has taken over weather stations at Army posts, now on a caretaker basis, at home as well as abroad, particularly those needed which the Army since demobilization is unable to operate. In fact, the Weather Bureau has authority, by order of the President, to take these stations where the needs of international airlines make such action essential. These home stations, added to prewar observatories, give better coverage than ever before.

The Weather Bureau already has stations in operation in Alaska and the Aleutians. The Bureau exchanges reports from a hundred stations daily with Russia.

Total Polio Cases In State Now 280

Lansing, Aug. 20 (P)—Michigan's polio caseload today reached 280 when 15 new cases were reported to the state health department.

Of the new cases, three were from Detroit to bring that city's caseload to 116.

Over the weekend, the department receives reports of 23 new infantile paralysis cases, 13 of which were from Detroit.

MORE TROUT PLANTED

Lansing, Aug. 20 (P)—The State Conservation Department's fish division has authorized an extra week of trout planting in streams to help heavily fished streams support fishing pressure up to the end of the trout season on Labor Day.

SPIDER BITES ACTOR

Hollywood, Aug. 19 (P)—A black widow spider's bite kept film actor Sonny Tufts off the set today, but his physician, Dr. Max Field, said he'd be back on the job tomorrow. Tufts said the spider nipped him on the eyelid while he was sleeping in his patio yesterday.

THIEVES FLY COOP

Missoula, Mont. (P)—Pigeon rustlers stole all the birds from a coop. That made the owner angry. But he really lost his temper when the marauders came back and tried to take the coop. He called the police, who saved the coop but didn't catch the thieves.

NO CONTROLS ON GRAIN AND DAIRY FOODS

"Its decision to decontrol items essential to the diet of American workers represents a dismal failure on the board's part to recognize the seriousness of increasing inflation of food costs," the statement added.

"The cost of living committee, CIO, will urge the decontrol board to reconsider its decision and to reinstitute ceilings on all items which it failed to control, x x x however, today's action proves that consumers must develop their own resistance to all unjustified price increases."

In his first exercise of his sweeping powers, the three-man board voted unanimously.

On the items voted back under controls, new ceilings to be determined by OPA and the Agricultural Department will become effective Friday.

The board ordered revival of the livestock subsidy payments which were in effect last June 29.

Stock Feeds Exempt

This apparently will make it possible for OPA administrator Paul Porter to carry out his plan to roll back retail meat prices generally to the levels of June 30, when the price controls expired.

Milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and all other dairy food and feed products will remain free of ceilings.

The decontrolled grains are wheat, rye, corn, oats, feed oats, mixed feed oats, barley and grain sorghums, as well as any livestock or poultry feed made entirely from any one or more of the basic grains.

The board directed reestablishment of price ceilings on flaxseed and by-product grain feeds.

In the case of each item on which ceilings were ordered restored, the board found that:

- 1. Prices have risen unreasonably above June 30 ceilings, plus any subsidy which was being paid them.
- 2. Supply is short.
- 3. Price control is "practicable, enforceable and in the public interest."

Supplies Adequate

These were the yardsticks set by congress.

In ruling against reestablishment of ceilings on most grains, the board said it had not found that control would be in the public interest.

Supply of grains, the board reported, "will be adequate when crops are harvested to meet anticipated demand."

The board further declared that grain price trends are downward and "are expected to level off at ceiling levels."

The board found "some instances" in which prices of milk and milk products have exceeded the June 30 ceilings, plus the subsidy.

"In most of these cases, the excess has been small," the board's statement added. "In some cases the excess was unreasonable."

The board announced it intends to watch prices of milk and milk products, and that it has

Increases Out of Line

Explaining its decision to restore meat ceilings, the board said that price increases since June 30 had ranged in the case of livestock from 20 to 50 per cent, and in the case of wholesale meat prices, from 35 to 80 per cent.

"Corresponding increases have been reported in the case of retail meat prices," the statement noted.

Saying that part of these increases were due to lapse of subsidies, the board said:

"For the most part prices reported were beyond question unreasonably above ceilings plus subsidies."

The supply of meat "has been and will continue to be short in relation to demand at reasonable prices," the board declared.

Many statements were received, the board continued, regarding enforceability and practicability of meat price controls. Saying that these statements had "disclosed the failures that have occurred in the past * * *," the board added:

"Nevertheless, it appears that the government has at hand adequate techniques to enforce these regulations, including the over-riding ceilings on cattle."

With respect to subsidies on livestock and meat, the board directed that on or before next Jan. 10 subsidies must be reduced by 50 per cent.

"This reduction," the statement said, "will provide the consumer with a more gradual transition to removal of the entire subsidy on April 1."

Congress stipulated that no food subsidies may be paid after that date.

Reasons Cited

In ordering continued decontrol of nearly all grains, the board cited three reasons why "it failed to find that the public interest would be served by their regulation."

1. The estimated supply of the decontrolled grains after the harvest of the current record corn and wheat crops appears to be adequate to meet the estimated demand.

2. Increases in the parity price for these grains would have required higher than June 30 ceilings, if controls had been re-established.

3. Although grain prices "rose sharply into unreasonable levels" in July, since early this month "prices have been returning rapidly to more reasonable levels."

In ordering restoration of controls on flax seed, the board said: "The need for continued regulation is evident to avoid unbridled bidding for the very limited current stocks."

Prices of soy beans and soy bean meal and oil have "risen substantially" above June 30 ceilings, the board reported in slapping these items back under control.

Increases Granted On Scarce Items of Building Material

Washington, Aug. 20 (P)—OPA tonight granted price increases ranging from 5 to 10 per cent on five scarce items of building material.

Retail ceilings on the following items were raised to conform to a provision of the new price control act which requires that dealers get the same percentage profit margin as on March 31, 1946:

Stock millwork, up 10 per cent; pine stock millwork and Douglas Fir doors, both up 9 per cent; stock screen doors and other stock screen goods, up 5 per cent.

A 10 per cent increase was granted to manufacturers of cast iron enameled plumbing fixtures. Dealers are permitted to pass on the full percentage of increase to their customers.

CARFERRIES HIT BY LAKE STRIKE

Both Ann Arbor, Pere Marquette Reported Not Operating

Both the Ann Arbor and Pere Marquette carferries yesterday were reported to be halted as a result of the maritime union strike on the lakes, with only the Milwaukee Clipper in service.

The Michigan state ferries at the Straits of Mackinac and the carferries Chief Wawatam and Sainte Marie were operating yesterday and the report through the Escanaba office of the highway department was that no difficulty was expected because of the strike.

Disruption of the Pere Marquette and Ann Arbor service, however, is placing an additional traffic burden on the state boats and the state boats were being supplemented by use of the Chief Wawatam. There is a considerable volume of traffic to Manistiquette and Menominee in the Upper Peninsula on the Ann Arbor carferries. When this service will be resumed will depend on the progress of efforts to negotiate a settlement of the strike.

At Escanaba it was reported by Lee McMillan, C&NW dock agent, that the arrival of ore carriers was continuing without interruption. None of the boats scheduled have been cancelled, and the following ore carriers are expected this week.

Today—G. R. Fink and Empress; Thursday—C. C. Conway, Hemlock, and Grand Island; Friday—Yosemite; Saturday—Pioneer.

Charge Bark River Man With Reckless Driving In Mishap

Walter Mayerczyk of Bark River route one was charged with reckless driving by city police officers here Tuesday morning following an accident near the intersection of First avenue south and 14th street in which the Mayerczyk car and a machine driven by Hilda Stefaniak, 1616 11th avenue south, were damaged.

Mayerczyk, who had no operator's license, was driving west on the avenue, stopped for the arterial at 14th street, then struck the rear fender and wheel of the Stefaniak car as he proceeded on to the street. The Stefaniak car was going north on 14th.

The Bark River man will be arraigned here next Tuesday.

Employment In Shipyards Declines To Bare 200,000

By MARC J. PARSONS
NEA Staff Correspondent
New York—(NEA).—The U. S. shipbuilding industry is fast becoming a post-war casualty.

Employment in private yards already has dropped from a wartime peak of almost 1,400,000 to a bare 200,000. By the first of the year, only 33 vessels and a few dredgers, barges, tugs and trawlers will be on the ways.

Basic need at the moment appears to be clarification of the government's attitude toward the entire industry. Current crimp in the building program stems from three things:

1. War cutbacks, expected by the industry.
2. Government economy, which has resulted in partial cancellation and postponement of the Maritime Commission's building program of passenger liners.
3. Tax troubles.

Shipbuilders are expected soon to ask the government for an overall policy survey. They point out that the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, upon which present policy supposedly is based, calls for U. S. to "foster and maintain" a merchant marine:

1. Capable of carrying "water-borne domestic commerce and a substantial portion of water-borne export and import commerce."
2. Capable of "serving as a naval and military auxiliary in time of war."
3. "Owned and operated" under the U. S. flag.
4. "Composed of the best-equipped, safest and most suitable type of vessels."

The U. S. cannot do this, they contend, if yards are allowed to lay idle and personnel scatter to other industries.

The Harvard School of Business Administration, in a report made for the Navy and the Maritime Commission, called the shipbuilding industry "essentially a munitions industry" and declared that "no world power can depend upon foreign nations to supply it with the materials of war."

Recent economy slash in the Maritime's passenger ship construction program is the biggest current headache. Besides the economy factor, the government contended that the program will save scarce materials and that reconversion and naval ship construction will help fill the gap.

Future Status In Doubt

"The facts are," says H. Gerish Smith, President of the Shipbuilders Council, "that remaining naval construction is rapidly being completed." Reconversion of existing ships may keep a few yards busy for a while but still leave the future status of the industry hanging in doubt.

As for the shortage of materials, Smith pointed out that the government reportedly is increasing by 50,000 tons the steel allotments to Great Britain to build merchant ships for Chile, and that the State Department has approved an Export-Import Bank loan to Chile to pay for the steel.

Tax troubles are keeping American shipping lines from contracting for new vessels for post-war trade. Again an interpretation of the Merchant Marine Act seems to be the key.

The act provides that lines operating under the subsidy provisions of the bill can deposit certain funds with the Maritime Commission as a construction reserve and that the funds will be non-taxable. Under this plan, 12 lines put aside $61,000,000 before and during the war as the basis for $130,000,000 in new construction when peace came.

The Treasury department, however, contends that these tax-free provisions did not hold during the war. It is seeking $40,000,000 of the $61,000,000 as taxes due. The lines have been forced to suspend their own construction programs until the matter is settled.

Today, Britain has 335 merchant vessels under construction. Dominions and Colonies have another 12. Combined gross tonnage is in excess of 1,500,000. The 33 now building in U. S. have a total gross tonnage of 188,000.

Post-War Hopes

America's post-war hopes for the passenger trade and the future of shipbuilding were tied up in seven vessels designed to compete in world trade. Two of them were for Latin American routes, three for the Mediterranean, and two for trans-Pacific service.

Despite previous approval by both the Navy and the Maritime Commission of these construction plans, the President's economy order postponed construction of the two for Latin American trade for one year.

Awarding of contracts for the three ships for Mediterranean trade have been held up for various reasons. Deadline for bids on the trans-Pacific ships is Sept. 20. Efforts to restore the program reportedly are meeting opposition from the executive branch of the government.

At the moment there are no signed contracts on the books for any new passenger liners and the American Merchant Marine Institute says no transports built during the war are scheduled for conversion to passenger peacetime use. Some pre-war privately owned passenger liners are being put back into service.

Britain, Sweden, Norway, Canada and even Russia all are racing to get liners into service.

Wildlife Aplenty In Alaska, Reports Midland Publisher

By PHIL RICH

Observatory—Near Loring, Alaska—We arose at 5 a. m. after a good sleep in our army-surplus down and feather sleeping bags and went fishing before breakfast. But no fish! So we returned, had breakfast of bacon, eggs and coffee and started fishing again.

We got one fish at the falls so we headed upstream three and three-quarters miles to Heckman lake. At the bridge I got a rainbow about 15 inches long. We left the fish on a rock and went on, but not before seeing two black tail deer along the river. These deer appear slightly smaller than the Michigan white tail.

The trail was covered with bear signs—both tracks and droppings and also where bear had dug up the fiery tasting skunk cabbage roots. There were also many deer tracks—fresh ones—and an occasional marten track.

Two miles up we saw a nice buck—standing at 150 feet—he had horns 8 or 10 inches long and he just stood and looked at us as we went along the trail.

At Jordan lake, we heard a rustle and looked out to see a flock of geese—Canadian honkers. Later we saw a dozen more at less than 30 feet. They stay in the area the year around, Mrs. Orton says.

We got some nice cutthroats at Heckman lake outlet. They ran from 15 to 17 inches long. It was a wonderful wilderness spot with huge hemlock and spruce growing down to the lake and mountains all around.

The Naha flows through a regular series of canyons and is fast, white water most of the way with occasional pools or small lakes.

Trees average six to seven feet in diameter at the base and 12-year-old David Orton tells us he measured one nine feet in diameter.

We returned to camp that night and put on a real fish supper—more than we could eat. We got away with five good big ones.

After supper I was casting a ruby eyed spinner with a chunk of fish fin attached when I landed a good rainbow. This one we weighed later and it did three and a quarter pounds dressed and was 20 inches long. I also picked up a nice cutthroat trout.

Now the bears come out in numbers. We watch, photograph and "glass" 'em at will. Reardon says one winked at him—he saw it!

Again we bed down for the night on the "soft" dirt floor.

County Fairs, Of Colonial Origin, Already Staging Postwar Comeback

Washington, D. C.—That old harvest-time institution, the county fair, is being rejuvenated this year following removal of wartime entertainment restrictions. The Boston Chamber of Commerce for example, has announced that in New England alone 270 fairs are scheduled for the present season.

American fairs were born at a time when farming was the country's predominant interest, says the National Geographic Society. Delaware's first fair was held in 1690 at New Castle. A fair at Baltimore opened in 1745.

The War of the Revolution stopped many fairs, including that at Lancaster, Pa., but some were resumed in later years. Fairs held at Parrott's Grove in the suburbs of Washington, D. C., were attended by President and Mrs. Jefferson, cabinet officers and diplomats, but they ended with the War of 1812.

Blue Ribbon Livestock

Those early fairs of course lacked the carnival attractions of today. Agricultural and trade exhibits were dominant. Entertainment features were incidental—itinerant Punch and Judy shows, wandering Scotch and Irish bagpipers, Peddlers, then covering the country in great numbers, brought their entertaining patter to the fairs.

The farm exhibits have continued through the years. Horses, cattle, sheep, and other livestock still compete for blue ribbons. Housewives vie for prizes for the best cakes, canned fruits and vegetables, jellies and pickles, quilts and other needlework.

Before the 20th century, fairs were selling concessions for lunch—rooms, ice-cream, candy, peanuts, and popcorn. These helped to pay the prize money and other expenses. Sideshows behind great pictured canvases lined the "midway."

"Rosco Basco, the wild man" supplied the barker with a mouth-filling name. Machines that measured sledge-hammer blows, the boxing kangaroo, the strong man, the bearded lady, and high divers into shallow tanks proved popular.

Away from the noise of the fast-talking ticket sellers, the music of the hurdy gurdy on the merry-go-round ground out its limited repertoire of gay-nineties favorites—"Sweet Marie," "Comrades," "Daisy."

Penicillin Creates Pollution Problem

New Brunswick, N. J.—Penicillin, conqueror of many diseases, indirectly imposes a public-health problem on the communities where it is produced, which bacteriologists at Rutgers University here have been working to solve. The problem comes from the large quantities of left-over nutrient solution on which the penicillin-producing mold has been raised. It contains a mixture of sugars, plus amyl acetate and other solvent chemicals. Poured raw into the rivers, it would constitute an exceedingly nasty kind of stream pollution, which would provoke no end of protests, and probably restrictive legislation as well.

The soil, from which penicillin originally came, has provided the answer. Dr. Willem Rudolfs and his co-workers here made a mixture of culture of microbes from a teaspoonful of soil, subcultures from which are able to use up the last bits of nutrient material in the waste fluid and return clean water to the streams.

IT TOOK

to provide a job for this young lady!

You may never have thought about it this way, but for each Michigan Bell employee there is $13,000 worth of telephone buildings and equipment.

Where did the money for this telephone "plant" come from?

It came from the sale of Bell System securities to folks who had savings to invest. And, naturally, they want—and are entitled to—a fair return from their investment.

That return must come out of Bell System earnings—the money left after paying wages, taxes, and other operating expenses. But, if earnings are insufficient, investors will not put more money into the telephone business, and Michigan Bell would not be able to expand and improve your service.

Since earnings depend so largely on telephone rates it's important to remember this:

Our "cost of living," like yours, has been rising rapidly. If it continues to go up, rate increases may become necessary to insure adequate earnings. In any event, Michigan Bell wants rates no higher—and no lower—than necessary to operate the business efficiently... pay good wages... give a fair return to investors and, thereby, protect the future quality of the service we give you.

Escanaba Couple
Celebrate Their
50th Anniversary

An event of singular impressiveness occurred at the Calvary Baptist church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Burdick, 116 South 16th street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

The church was beautifully decorated with an abundance of flowers. The program which was largely attended, commenced with the wedding march played by Mrs. Sherman Palmater, at which time the honored guests with their attendants approached the altar, standing before Rev. Birger Swenson who expressed fitting words of congratulation in poetry and offered prayer.

Mrs. L. R. Haring then sang "I Love You Truly." The program which followed included invocation by Robert Daley, a reading by Miss Pauline Frans entitled "Home" by Edgar Guest, a vocal duet by Mrs. Allen Goodman and Miss Lillian Bosk, a vocal solo by Mrs. L. R. Haring, an address in honor of the guests by Rev. Birger Swenson entitled "The Gold Standard", and a talk by Mr. C. V. Frans who presented Mr. and Mrs. Burdick with a purse from members and friends of the Calvary Baptist church.

Following the program a reception was held at the Burdick home for two hundred guests. A large wedding cake on a gold lace doille was the center piece of the beautifully decorated table, with tall gold tapers in tall silver candleholders on either side. The wedding cake was made by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Sey Ernst of Niagara, Wisconsin. Mrs. Delight Lippold served the fruit punch, and coffee was poured by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Wendel Ernst of Daggett, Michigan, and a niece, Mrs. Harold Ernest of Niagara. In the evening a dinner was served to the relatives of the honored pair.

For the golden wedding, Mrs. Jesse Burdick was attired in a gray flowered dress, and her attendant, Mrs. Minnie Vecser of Casco who was her bridesmaid fifty years ago, was dressed in a green flowered dress. Mr. Burdick's attendant was their son, Norman, of Escanaba. The flower girls who wore long white dresses with gold colored velvet bows and streamers and flowered headpieces, were a great grand-daughter, Miss Jeanine Kay Lippold of Escanaba and Miss Raeburn Ann Ernest a great-grand niece of Niagara, Wisconsin. Each of the little girls carried colonial bouquets of sweet peas.

The honored couple received many beautiful gifts in honor of the occasion.

Bullet Is Cause
Of Mishap

City police are searching for clues as to what actually caused the impact that shattered the large plate glass window in the home of Mrs. Mary Schneider, 127 River street, about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

From general appearances, the police state, the hole in the glass was caused by a bullet and guests at the house state that at the time they heard the crash they heard a noise that sounded like the back-firing of a car, but Mrs. Schneider, who was sleeping on a cot in the room where the incident occurred, heard only the crash of glass as it clattered on to the dining room table close to where she lay.

No bullet or any kind of a missile has as yet been found. The hole in the window was not large but the window, which is about five feet square, is a total loss.

Advisers Say Only
Few Vets 'Problems'

Los Angeles—Only 5 per cent of the nation's World War II veterans really constitute the "problem" that has been so frequently discussed and written about, report two advisers to veterans returning to college.

Writing in a recent issue of The Journal of Higher Education, Dr. Robert W. Webb and Byron H. Atkinson of the Office of Veterans Affairs at the University of California at Los Angeles emphatically declare, "The veteran does not generally constitute an educational, emotional, psychological or psychiatric problem."

They base their estimate of 5 per cent on thousands of veterans that have passed through their office in the past 18 months.

"The fact which we, as educators, need to face," warn the writers, "is that the returning veteran generally has well-defined ideas which he expects in a measure to be recognized by the institution of his choice, and a clearly defined goal which he expects to reach with all possible expedition."

Definite Move Is Made For Realization Of Community Hospital

Manistique and Schoolcraft county will, in the not so very distant future, be able to list among its advantages a modern and well equipped community hospital.

Details as to size, location, plans, sponsorship and raising of funds to provide for its construction are still in the making, but there is no mistaking the result-getting seriousness of the Manistique citizens who attended a meeting Monday evening at the court house for the purpose of discussing this badly needed facility.

As a result of this meeting, sponsored by the Schoolcraft-Manistique Chamber of Commerce, a committee of nine citizens will be appointed to arrange for the necessary details that will make the hospital a reality.

"We won't get a hospital by talking about it," said J. J. Herbert in presenting the motion calling for the appointment of the committee and assigning its duties. "It is up to us to get busy and do something about it," he added.

Among the functions of this committee will be the work of soliciting funds through popular subscription, and the study of plans for financing the project. The committee will be empowered to secure the services of an architect, to recommend the hospital site and means of acquisition.

J. Mauritz Carlson, who presided at the meeting, was empowered to appoint the committee and states that he will announce his appointments some time later in the week.

The original purpose of the meeting was the presentation of a discussion by Graham L. Davis, hospital consultant of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, of the features of the hospital bill recently passed by congress and signed by President Truman. Through the provisions of this measure, known as Senate Bill 191, an appropriation has been made that will give material assistance to the construction of community hospitals such as the one planned for Manistique.

This measure, Mr. Davis said, had been up for consideration for several years, but had been hampered by war needs. Touching the local situation, he said that he thought about one-third of the cost of construction could be met through provisions of Senate Bill 191.

Community hospitals such as the one proposed, Mr. Davis said, could be built by the county or city and financed through taxation or through the sponsorship of a non-profit organization, and financed through public donations and community chest drives. The latter, he said, have met with the best success as they are not subject to the whims of politics.

A one-story structure, he said, was recommended for hospitals serving communities this size, stating that additions are more easily and cheaply made to such structures and the need for expensive elevators are eliminated. Hospital needs for populations such as this, he said, are figured at from 3.5 to 4 beds per one thousand. The estimated cost for a local hospital would be about $300,000.

Mr. Davis stated that the way cities throughout the state are raising funds for hospitals is most impressive. Frankfort, for instance, a city of 2,000 has already raised $100,000 through popular subscription, for that purpose.

Watson Reports
Early in Monday night's meeting, Russell Watson, speaking in behalf of the hospital committee appointed more than a year ago by the Chamber of Commerce, said that a proposal to use the old infirmary was investigated by the committee and found to be unsuitable. He stated that a suitable site for a hospital is available on the old fair grounds and that the county board of supervisors would deed the ground for that purpose. The committee recommended that a non-profit organization be formed to sponsor the project and that an architect be employed at an early date to submit plans for the structure. On the committee with him were A. W. Heitman, Otmer Schuster, and Dr. James Fyvie.

Dr. George Shaw, in addressing the gathering, stated that he had in

Albino Raspberry
Found at Thompson

It seems that there are albinos in the plant life as well as in animal life. Some raspberries picked in Thompson township Monday by Mrs. Dan Hamiel of Manistique, would so indicate. The berries were picked in an area where the red variety abound and their flavor is identical, but the berries are almost transparent.

the past been "a wet blanket" to the hospital proposal because, he stated, the proposals submitted were neither suitable nor adequate to the community needs. Manistique has long been in need of a hospital, he added, and stated that he was wholeheartedly behind the present move. The necessary funds to erect the hospital could readily be raised by popular subscription, he said.

Child Injured
When Large Store
Window Collapses

Mary, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeCelle, was treated for cuts in her forearm and ankle after a plate glass window at the Lauerman department store collapsed Tuesday morning.

The window was broken several weeks ago and had been boarded up. The part of the glass remaining was to have been salvaged but gave way without warning.

Little Mary, in company with Nora Green, age 8, were walking out of the store when the glass gave way. But for a few minor scratches Nora was unhurt, Mary's injuries are not regarded as serious.

SCHUSTER'S SUPERFOOD MART

Famed U.M. Coach, Fielding Yost Dies

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 20 (AP)—Fielding H. (Hurry Up) Yost, who built a national reputation as a football strategist during 39 years with the University of Michigan, died today of a gall bladder attack.

He celebrated his 75th birthday April 30.

Although he had been in failing health for several years, Yost's death came suddenly. He had walked around his Ann Arbor home this morning and was apparently gaining strength following a recent illness.

His career as a football coach began in an era of mustached players garbed in turtleneck sweaters and ended in a day of giant stadia and cherring multitudes.

Since 1940 Yost had been in virtual retirement, although holding the post of Athletic director emeritus at the Ann Arbor institution.

His condition became serious enough this spring to warrant his hospitalization in Battle Creek, Mich. However, he was released with a few days and allowed to return to his home in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Yost, whom he married in 1906, was with him when he died. They have one son, Fielding H. Yost, Jr.

Fielding Yost, renowned as a gridiron tactician, won the first Rose Bowl game with his Michigan squad in 1901, developed Michigan's famed "point-a-minute" team that rolled up 2,841 points to 42 for the opposition during the years 1901 to 1905, and turned out 15 all-Americans during his long tenure at Ann Arbor.

He was a brother-in-law of Dan E. McGugin, widely-known Vanderbilt University football coach who died several years ago.

A native of Fairview, W. Va., Yost played baseball at Ohio Northern university, then Oil Normal. There was no football team there but he "discovered" the game at West Virginia university in 1894 and his career was shaped.

In 1896-97 he played the game at Lafayette College and in the latter year began coaching at Ohio Wesleyan. He served as coach at the University of Nebraska in 1898, the University of Kansas in 1899, and Leland Stanford university in 1900.

In 1901 he came to Ann Arbor where his genius as a developer and leader of athletes blossomed.

Built Up Profits

His shrewd handling of football gate receipts parlayed a 10-acre athletic field with rickety wooden stands seating 800 spectators to one of the largest sports layouts in the nation.

During his 25 years of active duty along the Michigan sidelines Yost's teams won 164 games, lost 29, and tied 10.

His famous nickname was fastened upon him in his first year at Michigan when his high-pitched, penetrating voice, with its slight southern accent, repeated after almost every play:

"You'll have to hurry, you'll have to hurry."

In later years, "Hurry Up" became known to his pupils as "Old Man Yost" or just "The Old Man."

Although best known as an athletic director and coach, Yost was a keen businessman with interests in coal, water power and other utilities. He studied law to improve his business management and once carried a case successfully to the Tennessee supreme court.

In addition to his duties as coach, he became Michigan's athletic director in 1921, six years later the university had a $4,000,000 athletic plant.

Yost "retired" for the first time as head football coach in 1924, but took up the reins again the following year. He considered his undefeated 1925 team the greatest he ever handled.

He retired again in 1927 but his influence was noticeable in teams of that and the following year. When Harry G. Kipke, one of his star pupils, became head coach in 1929, Yost again announced he was "stepping aside."

Kipke was succeeded in 1938

by Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, who also became athletic director when Yost retired from that position in 1940.

Heston Star Pupil

Yost developed such football immortals as Halfback Willie Heston, Germany Schulz, center in 1907, Frank Steketee, 1918 fullback, Ernie Vick, 1919 center, Kipke, 1922 halfback, Jack Blott, 1923 center, Edelff Slaughter, 1924 guard, Bennie Osterbaan, 1925-27 end, and Bennie Friedman, 1926 halfback, as well as other All-American players.

A student of tactics—military as well as gridiron—Yost used to give his players football chalk-talks during World War I and follow them with briefings on the day's battle developments.

Yost stressed defense as a fundamental of football strategy and his best Michigan teams seldom yielded touchdowns without a strong tussle. The Yost formula was popularity described as "a punt, a pass and a prayer"—and it paid rich dividends.

Perhaps his most widely known offensive tactics was "Old 83," a razzle Dazzle, hidden-ball play which brought the spectators to their feet in many a crucial situation.

A Republican and a Methodist, Yost boasted that he never took a drink in his life.

He told his players that they "can't carry the ball and carry the bottle."

Willie Heston was regarded by Yost as the best player he ever coached. A halfback, Heston scored 110 touchdowns on the "point-a-minute team" during 44 games in which Michigan was undefeated. He was the university's first All-American.

SAVAGE SHUTS OUT TIGES, 2-0

Elmer Valo Scores Both Runs For Athletics After Walks

Philadelphia, Aug. 20 (AP)—Bob Savage held the Detroit Tigers to three hits tonight to pitch the Philadelphia Athletics to a 2 to 0 shutout before 13,893. Elmer Valo scored both Athletics runs after he had walked in the first and seventh innings.

The tall, slim Savage was in trouble only in the sixth when the Tigers loaded the bases with two out. He then got Greenberg for the final out.

Hal Newhouser, trying for his 22nd victory, was charged with his sixth loss.

Newhouser fanned 10 to raise his total to 200 for the season but walked four.

The Athletics scored their first run in the first inning when Valo walked, went to third on Barney McCosky's single and scored on another safety by Pete Suder.

Detroit had a chance to tie after two out in the sixth when Eddie Lake made his first hit of the season and George Kell followed with another. Hoot Evers was walked to fill the bases but Hank Majeski and Evers was forced at second.

Mack's men added their second run in the seventh after one out when Valo walked, went to third on Oscar Grimes' single and scored on Barney McCosky's fly to center.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

High school football in the Upper Peninsula will establish new attendance records this fall, most men closely associated with the sport believe. The tremendous turnout at the all-star game in Negaunee provided the first definite indication that this prediction will be fulfilled. Sports enthusiasm has reached a new all-time high, money is rather loose and a growing number of industries are closed on Saturday afternoons. Several schools that had planned to install lights for night football games, however, are disappointed because of inability to secure the equipment. Gladstone has just about given up hope of securing a lighting installation this fall, and there is growing suspicion that Manistique, one of the first communities to place an order for lights for the 1946 season, also may be forced to forego night football for another year.

The toughest football coaching job in the peninsula this year is the task that confronts George Ruwitech of the Eskymos. Last

PROSPECTS DIM FOR ESKYMOS

Five Reserve Lettermen Return For Football Practice

A squad of approximately 75 candidates has responded to the opening call for football practice at the Escanaba high school. Coach George Ruwitech has reported, but only light drills have been ordered for the first several days of work-outs.

The football candidates will be given their physical examinations today or tomorrow after which uniforms will be issued. Body contact training will probably begin next week.

Of the list of 75 candidates reported thus far, only five lettermen are included. They are Bill Turner, tackle; Gordon Schils and Dave Friets, ends; Don Biehler, guard; and Jack Peterson, halfback. They represent the only lettermen returning from the 1945 undefeated Eskymos and none played a starting position last fall.

Coach George Ruwitech sounded the usual pre-season note of pessimism concerning the Eskymo football prospects, but this time he obviously isn't fooling. With the greenest squad in years, the Eskymos face a schedule that is a killer-diller, the toughest in the Upper Peninsula.

The Eskymos open the season here Sept. 14 against the Soo Blue Devils. They will play away from home the next three successive weekends at Ironwood, Norway and Menominee. Three home games follow with Kingsford, Iron Mountain and Marinette and the Escanaba team will conclude its schedule on Nov. 2 at Gladstone.

At least six of the Eskymo opponents are expected to come up this season with unusually strong teams and only two—Soo and Kingsford—can be regarded as of problematical strength. Ironwood, Menominee, Iron Mountain, Marinette and Gladstone all are well blessed with experienced talent, and Norway is almost certain to be stronger than last season.

year's Upper Peninsula champs were graduated two deep with the entire first string and just about all of the second string moving on. Few coaches were ever faced with a more thorough job of rebuilding than Ruwitech has this year, but the situation is far from hopeless. The Eskymos will win a few games, despite the toughest schedule of any prep team in the peninsula. The best prospect is at Iron Mountain, which will present an almost 100 per cent veteran team. Gladstone also is well fortified this fall.

Preliminary plans for the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves boxing championships, which will be held at Escanaba again next winter, are now being shaped. An unusually large number of entries is virtually certain and it may be necessary to run off a couple subzone tournaments. The Escanaba tournament will not be run on successive nights as it has been in past years, but will be spread over a one or two weeks period. The most attractive prize list in the history of U. P. Golden Gloves will be offered this season and every boxer who wins one or more bouts will receive a prize. Golden Gloves emblems will be distributed to all entrants.

The Escanaba Softball association is considering the installation of a new modern backdrop at the lighted field before the 1947 season gets under way. The association is now taking bids on various designs and a decision will be made early this fall. The material will cost about $550 and the installation probably would be done by the association to save the $500 installation expense. The backdrop would include cage facilities for the players. A number of other improvements also are contemplated for the 1947 season.

Leading Dodgers Lose To Pirates In 10-0 Shutout

Pittsburgh, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, who only a few hours before rejected the American baseball guild, defeated the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers 10 to 0 tonight before a crowd of 31,106. Elbie Fletcher homered for the Pirates with two aboard in the fourth.

Nick Strincevich held the Dodgers to four widely scattered hits and never was in any kind of danger after his teammates shelled Vic Lombardi from the mound with a four-run attack in the opening inning. Lombardi walked Ralph Kiner with the bases filled for one run and Jim Russell promptly singled home two more.

In all, the revitalized Pirates collected ten walks and ten hits from the Dodgers. Elbie Fletcher poled his fourth homer of the year

DOUBLE VICTORY TAKEN BY CUBS

Phils Set Down, 5-2, 10-2; Second Baseman Lost With Broken Hand

Chicago, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs took a double-header from the Philadelphia Phils today, 5 to 2 and 10 to 2, but lost Second Baseman Don Johnson with a fractured left hand.

Johnson was hit between the left thumb and first finger by one of Charlie Schanz's pitches as the Cubs coasted to a 10-2 triumph in the nightcap.

Reports from the Cubs' clubhouse indicated that Johnson would be out of action from four to six weeks, or the balance of the season.

Four Philie infield errors made it easy for the Cubs and Hank Borowy to win the first game. Borowy gained his seventh victory and his fourth over the Phils by pitching the distance for the fifth time in 21 starts on a yield of eight hits. Bliz Donnelly worked six innings and was charged with the loss.

Phil Cavarretta collected four of the Cubs' 14 hits in the second game off Schanz to drive in four runs. Pitcher Hiram Bithorn was credited with the decision, turning in a two hit performance for seven innings after replacing Starter Hank Wyse.

Pirates Reject Guild As Bargaining Agent

Pittsburgh, Aug. 20 (AP)—Members of the Pittsburgh Pirates team today rejected the American Baseball Guild in baseball's first collective bargaining election by a 15 to 3 vote.

Nineteen of the 31 eligible Pirate players voted in the election conducted by the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board and one of the votes was challenged.

Ten players did not appear at the polling place and two eligible to vote were not available because they were out of the city.

The challenged vote was that of rookie Leroy Jarvis. The challenge was made by the Labor Board until it was determined whether Jarvis had been on the club payroll long enough since July 16, the day the list was submitted.

Players in the city who did not vote included Edson Bahr, Billy Cox, Ken Gables, Al Groshauer, Al Gronofido, Frank Gustine, Lee Handley, Al Lopez, Bill Salkeld and Burgess Whitehead.

Murphy has ten days to challenge the election—a challenge he undoubtedly will accept.

Murphy, chewing a cigar, took his defeat calmly, saying:

"The result came as no surprise to me since I've said within the last couple of days—off the record—the Guild couldn't possibly win."

Although Murphy was outwardly calm, a hastily scribbled statement which he handed to the press took an angrier view of things. It said:

"This loss constitutes a setback for the Guild. It was brought about by the pretended fairness of the owner-dominated player-management committee. These illegal committees, set up as a smokescreen by the owners, are both a sham and a farce and lack both the permanence and the strength to represent the players adequately."

Interrupted to be asked if he intended challenging the votes, Murphy replied:

"I've already filed unfair labor charges."

Before the first Pirate player appear in the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board offices to vote, Murphy had prepared a charge of unfair labor practices against the Pirates ownership.

The election was ordered Aug. 5, three days before the Pirate franchise was sold by heirs of the late Barney Dreyfuss to a combine headed by Frank E. McKinney of Indianapolis, Bing Crosby, John W. Galbreath, Columbus O., realtor and sportsman, and Thomas P. Johnson, young Pittsburgh attorney.

YANKS THUMPED BY WHITE SOX

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Randy Gumpert's eight-game winning streak was snapped tonight as the Chicago White Sox handed the New York Yankee right-hander a 9-2 thumping in the opening game of their final eastern trip of the season.

Four-run outbursts in each of the sixth and seventh innings enabled Ed Lopat to hand Gumpert his first defeat since April 17 when he was beaten by Philadelphia.

A crowd of 33,989 saw Joe Di Maggio, who batted his 20th homer in the seventh, open the door for the Sox's four-run flurry in the sixth by mugging a line drive off Bob Kennedy's bat with the bases loaded. Two runs scored on Di Maggio's error to break a 1-1 tie and the other pair crossed the plate on Case Michaels' single.

Luke Appling's second double of the night knocked in the first score of the Sox' outburst in the seventh. Hal Trosky singled home Appling to set the stage for Taft Wright's seventh homer of the year, chasing Gumpert. Lopat registered his ninth victory by scattering eight hits, allowing one in each frame except the eighth.

Browns and Boston Divide Twin Bill; Nightcap Is Close

Boston, Aug. 20 (AP)—Ellis Kinder, navy discharge, today won his first major league victory at the expense of the world series-bound Red Sox as the St. Louis Browns split a doubleheader with the Bostonians, taking the nightcap by the close margin of 5-4 after dropping the opener 5-1.

The opener was pretty much one way with the Sox jumping off two a two run lead in the second and adding the other three in the fourth while the best the Browns could do was fashion a single tally in the third against Jim Barbey, Jr., who won his fifth game of the year.

Maurice (Mickey) Harris pitched the first eight innings for the Sox in the closer, yielding all 12 hits and five runs which included Chet Laabs' 14th home run with nobody aboard in the fifth. Ted Williams clouted his 33rd four base blow in the eighth, scoring Johnny Pesky ahead of him.

Kinder, who has started but one game since coming into the big league, has given up but six hits until the ninth.

After one was out in that inning Luke Sewell took him out after successive singles by Dom Dimaggio and Pinky Higgins. Ferrick allowed one more hit which scored the fourth run and then got the next two men to end the game.

Two Giant Homers Beat Reds, 4 to 3

Cincinnati, Aug. 20 (AP)—Walker Cooper hit a two-run homer and Goody Rosen also contributed a circuit blow tonight as the New York Giants defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3, before 17,012 fans.

The Reds threatened in the ninth when a double by Bob Usher and singles by Claude Corbitt and Benny Zientara produced a run, but Grady Hatton flied out to center for the third out with the bases loaded.

Cooper's home run in the sixth with Willard Marshall aboard wiped out a 2-1 Cincinnati lead. The Giants scored in the third on Buddy Blattner's single, Corbitt's error and Buddy Kerr's double, but the Reds went ahead in the fourth, getting the first marker on singles by Hatton, Dain Clay and Lonnie Frey and the second as Clay came home on a double steal. Rosen's homer came in the ninth. New York 001 002 001—4 9 0 Cincinnati 000 200 001—3 8 1 Koessler and Cooper; Gumpert and Mueller.

HALT ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL

Three-Time Convict Is Discovered Filing Window Bars

George Paul, 23, of Nahma, three-time convict and still on parole from Marquette prison, was placed in the Delta county jail's counterpart of "solitary" yesterday after Sheriff William E. Miron discovered that Paul had attempted to escape by filing the window bars in his cell.

The discovery was made by the sheriff and the night turnkey Monday night on an inspection of the cell quarters. Paul was arrested last spring for the robbery of the McClinchy gas station at Nahma Junction. He pleaded not guilty in the May term of circuit court and was held over to the October term for trial, which will be with jury. The sheriff said that Paul has been three times an inmate at branch state prison at Marquette.

Sheriff Miron reported that Paul was saved through the bottoms of two iron bars, a flat cross bar, and one of the straps holding an outer screen. The sawing was done with the blade of a hacksaw which the sheriff discovered hidden in the pillowcase in Paul's cell. Paul told the sheriff that he had secreted the blade in his shoe and had it with him when he entered the jail.

Canned Tomatoes Shortage Looms

Newark, Del.—Shortages of canned tomatoes and tomato juice can be expected this winter due to one of the most severe epidemics of the tomato blight disease that has ever struck this country.

Already this fungus plague has destroyed half the tomato crop in Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois. Dr. J. W. Heuberger, professor of plant diseases at the University of Delaware here, warned today.

If present weather holds, total damage to the country's tomato crop will run to $40,000,000.

Fast becoming a headache in the heady business of food production, this vicious fungus, which runs in cycles and is now at the crest of a cycle, has already struck many of the most important growing areas. Last season it caused the worst crop failure in years in the Homestead, Fla., area; it attacked northern tomato fields for the first time on record; and in the Bradenton, Fla., area left only three growers with salvageable crops, Dr. Heuberger reported.

TREAT DRUNKS WITH INSULIN

New Treatment Devised For "Lost Weekend" Patients

Arlington, Mass.—Acute alcoholics, treated with insulin, can be lured away from drink twice as fast and with greater ease and comfort than by the usual method of gradually withdrawing alcohol from the diet, Dr. Etem G. Vassaf and Dr. Volta R. Hall, of the Ring Sanatorium and Hospital, Arlington, Mass., have found.

Small doses of insulin were given two or three times daily before meals to 43 patients whose "lost weekend" varied from two days to three months. The patients, 29 of whom were men and 14 women were forced to drink plenty of fruit juices, in a diet of high-calorie and high-vitamin foods. Those who showed signs of tremors, excessive sweating, confusion, or disorientation, were also given injections of vitamin B-1.

Of the patients 44 per cent required no alcohol after receiving insulin, while in a group of 564 patients who were not given insulin, only 14 per cent could give up whiskey at once. The average withdrawal period for the insulin patients was one day, slightly less than half the 2.2 days required by the average alcoholic receiving no insulin.

Nursing and medical staffs agreed that the patients receiving insulin were more contented and cooperative, less restless and fault-finding, and less insistent in their demands for alcohol than were the control patients.

Scientists have long known that the burning of alcohol and its consequent disappearance from the body may be speeded by the catalytic action of simultaneous oxidation or burning of sugar. Drunks, completely "out" in a serious alcoholic coma, have been sobered up in two hours or less and able to walk alone within four hours by injection of both sugar and insulin.

Insulin, administered alone, will speed up the oxidation of blood sugar, otherwise dormant when alcohol is present, and this, in turn, speeds up the elimination of the alcohol itself.

Dr. Vassaf and Hall, reporting their studies to the New England Journal of Medicine, suggest greater future use of insulin in treatment of acute alcoholism.

Nover Too Old To Get Into The Game

New York (AP)—Moirshe Byrone of Brooklyn, pleading guilty of craps shooting, said he was born in Palestine and was 104 years old.

Magistrate Charles E. Hirsimaki, who fined 12 young men in the same game $1 apiece, took Byrone's age into account. He let him off with a suspended sentence.
